Living Your Silent Chant

“The ultimate purpose is the complete mastery of mind over the material world”

Nikola Tesla

Every particle of an atom of a human body is pulsating, throbbing, and vibrating because of the presence of a tiny speck of the Maker in it. Even science does not deny this truth. The Force is so deeply rooted in us that we cannot escape from being, having, and creating all that we aspire for, the minuscule replication of the Force that we are. We only have to realize this fact as a preamble to living fully in our silent chant.

Your Silent Chant is silent because it is internalized and is an integral component of your construct, meaning your persona, character, inclinations, and all other aspects of you as a normal healthy being. It is the sum total of all your preferences & prejudices, fears & phobias, likes & dislikes, and all agreements & disagreements of your senses. It is an impeccable aspect of your makeup. When you are intimately intertwined with your silent chant you are in a state of total integrity. You're not able to share your chant with anyone because it is deeply embedded in your subconscious. It can be altered though through intense meditative exercises of the mind. Whilst your mind is a dynamic processor of thoughts, you possess a cultivated sense of awareness of what is in your mind – your thoughts. Thus you energize and harness agreeable thoughts and let others fritter away, sometimes by consciously whispering the words ‘I delete that thought’. Thus you are potentially the architect of your destiny.

You are poised to naturally be, have, and create all you wish for.

Whilst you do not share it with anyone, your chant can be honed to create bandwidth for you to exist at an exceptionally high-frequency vibrational level. Others gravitate around you and this rubs off on them. Thus you can subliminally impart your cohesiveness to them, and in some cases, all kinds of other living creatures. You can be an influencer of consciousness yet you do not speak in a dignified or arrogant tone. You speak the language of a warm-hearted friend. This quality draws adulation from those who know you.

You are more normal than at any other time when you are living your silent chant.

That is when the faculties of immense creativity and wisdom are open and you shift what is in your head to your hand and take charge of your destiny. Your intimacy with your chant creates amazing synchronistic miracles. A thought pops up in your mind and soon a facilitating occurrence appears before your eyes! You see a sign 'We Buy Any Car' on the back of a van on the road just when your mind is preoccupied with how you will sell your car. You have a desire to buy a special garment and serendipitously you see it in a shop window. These synchronies happen with such regularity that you no longer see them as miracles.

You are a born manifester! What comes into your mind is never only an idea but something realizable.

When awareness lifts the veil on this innate gift, you cease to feel immobilized in any situation. You live your daily life with panache, self-assuredness, and freedom from stress.

You scale new mystical heights and unfold your extraordinarily robust spiritual self, to not only predict but prophesize, to not only help but also heal others.

This is the heritage humans have descended with on this physical plane.

Harness the energy within you and you will find the mystical secrets of the Universe.

Be Blessed
